Featuring

Rebecca Postma

Rebecca Postma is a performing mezzo-soprano in classical and opera as well as an instructor for voice. A graduate of Wilfrid Laurier University, Rebecca was awarded a Bachelor of Honours Music in voice performance. During her undergraduate years, Rebecca mentored with tenor Brandon Leis with whom she continues in an independent directed study of vocal pedagogy. Displaying a surprising musical diversity, Rebecca has a great love of classic rock and has performed in this genre throughout her education and career. Rebecca is currently a music instructor/assistant director at the School of Rock in Kitchener, performing when she can in various genres and events
